Quick Facts about Mombasa

Mombasa is a seaport city on the coast of Kenya, along the Indian Ocean. It is the country's oldest (circa 900 AD) and second-largest city (after the capital Nairobi), with an estimated population of about 1.5 million people. Administratively, Mombasa is the county seat of Mombasa County.

Mombasa is a regional cultural and economic hub; it has an extra-large port and an international airport and is an important regional tourism center. Mombasa is located on the east coast of Kenya, it also is the home of one of the State House (Kenya), and is considered by some as a second capital in all but name. In Mombasa County and the former Coast Province, Mombasa's situation on the Indian Ocean made it a historical trading center. Mombasa boasts a rich Swahili culture which is a mixture of Arab and African cultures. The culture dictates the food, dressing and music of the Coastal town. Local language spoken in Mombasa is Swahili.

Leadership

Mombasa is county 001, His Excellency Hassan Ali Joho is the first Governor of Mombasa County and is serving his second five-year term after successfully defending his seat on the August 8th, 2017.

Climate

Mombasa has a tropical wet and dry climate. The amount of rainfall essentially depends on the season. The rainiest months are April and May, while rainfall is minimal between January and February. Located near the equator, Mombasa has only a slight seasonal temperature variation, with high temperatures ranging 28.8–33.7 °C (83.8–92.7 °F). As a seaport, Mombasa is subject to detrimental consequences of a fluctuating climate. Carry along clothing for warm weather. A cap and hat will also be advisable to shield oneself from the sun.

How to Get to Mombasa

The coastal city has a good infrastructural network that connects it to Kenya's main cities like Nairobi. You can get to Mombasa by:

- Air- from Jomo-Kenyatta International Airport in Nairobi to Mombasa's Moi International Airport journey is approximately 30 minutes. Carriers include, Kenya Airways, Jumbo Jet, Fly540, Ethiopian Airways, RwandAir
- Rail- Mombasa currently has a modern railway station on the Mombasa–Nairobi Standard Gauge Railway located at Miritini, the Mombasa Terminus station links Mombasa to Nairobi. The journey takes approximately 5 hours between the two cities. Charges per adult are Ksh. 3,000 and Ksh. 1,000 for First class and economy respectively for one way.
- Road- by bus or by car you can drive for about 8 to 9 hours from Nairobi to Mombasa.
